OVERVIEW

On this, the last day of his life, Moshe goes from tent to tent throughout the camp, bidding farewell to his beloved people, encouraging them to keep the faith. Moshe tells them that whether he is among them or not, G-d is with them, and will vanquish their enemies. Then he summons Yehoshua, and in front of all the people, exhorts him to be strong and courageous as the leader of the Jewish People. In this manner, he strengthens Yehoshua's status as the new leader. Moshe teaches them the mitzvah of Hakhel: That every seven years on the first day of the intermediate days of Succos, the entire nation, including small children, is to gather together at the Temple to hear the King read from the Book of Devarim. The sections that he reads deal with faithfulness to G-d, the covenant, and reward and punishment. G-d tells Moshe that his end is near, and he should therefore summon Yehoshua to stand with him in the Mishkan, where G-d will teach Yehoshua. G-d then tells Moshe and Yehoshua that after entering the Land, the people will be unfaithful to Him, and begin to worship other gods. G-d will then completely hide his face, so that it will seem that the Jewish People are at the mercy of fate, and that they will be hunted by all. G-d instructs Moshe and Yehoshua to write down a song -Ha'azinu - which will serve as a witness against the Jewish People when they sin. Moshe records the song in writing and teaches it to Bnei Yisrael. Moshe completes his transcription of the Torah, and instructs the Levi'im to place it to the side of the Aron (Holy Ark), so that no one will ever write a new Torah scroll that is different from the original - for there will always be a reference copy.

IT'S DERECH ERETZ...

RABBI Y AUERBACH

It is Derech Eretz to greet people even if you don't know them.

It is Derech Eretz not to park in the handicapped space even if you are in a hurry to catch the Minyan.

It is Derech Eretz to come on time to an appointment even if you have something else important to do.

It is Derech Eretz not to walk out when a Rabbi is about to give a drosha even if you think you know more than him.

It is Derech Eretz to call your wife at least once a day, even if you are busy at work.

It is Derech Eretz for a wife to greet her husband after his long day at work, even if she had a hard day with the children.

It is Derech Eretz for a husband to say goodbye to his wife when he leaves the house, even if he is in a hurry.

It is Derech Eretz to honour your in-laws, even if you don't always agree with them.

It is Derech Eretz for parents not to interfere or intrude in their married children's lives, even if they are supporting them.

It is Derech Eretz to inform your Rav you are leaving the Shul for good even if you got upset about some Shul matter.

It is Derech Eretz for Yeshivah boys to ask permission from their Rosh Yeshiva to go to another Yeshiva even if he might disagree.

It is Derech Eretz not to stand in the passage way of the Shul when there is room inside, even if you want to leave immediately.

It is Derech Eretz to say Yasher Koach to someone who davened or gave a drosha, even if you think you could definitely have done better.

It is Derech Eretz to greet the Rosh Beis Din or the Chief Rabbi at a Simcha even if you don't always agree with him.

It is Derech Eretz to apologize if you didn't show Derech Eretz, even if saying sorry is so difficult.

It is Derech Eretz to put seforim back on the shelf, even if you didn't learn from them.
